To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to provide this letter of recommendation for Goodgame Company.

Goodgame was the general contractor for our project Town and Country Ford in Pell City, AL, which was completed in 2017. Goodgame delivered both a high quality finished product and high quality level of service to the owner, all while beating the schedule. Brad Kelly, our project manager, was organized and thorough, and kept the team abreast of progress and potential issues at every step of the way. Kevin Rickles, our project superintendent, did a great job of orchestrating the subcontractors and responding to unforeseen complications and changes in scope. Their efforts and attitude helped us promote a team-centered approach to project delivery, and made for a successful project and pleasant experience.
