

Warning: Employment Scams

Online job scams take advantage of job seekers. They will make attempts to gather confidential information from individuals, as well as try to pay for supplies or services, or to get them to cash fraudulent checks, or send money in a different array of ways.

Goodgame Company, Inc. will never ask you to pay for training, cash checks, wire money or pay for supplies. We conduct phone interviews and in-person interviews with candidates. We will never conduct an interview via chat or instant messenger. We will never ask your social security number in an email or over phone.

When Goodgame sends an offer of employment, it will come from a company email address (jason.goodgame@goodgamecompany.com). There will never be a variation to our domain name goodgamecompany.com. And no offers will come from other emails/domains or variations of.

For more information about common employment scams, please visit the Better Business Bureau website:

<https://www.bbb.org/article/tips/12261-bbb-tip-employment-scams>